Although humans first evolved there, Africa is the last continent to participate in the industrial revolution. We are driven to be a leader in the rapid development that is now underway across the continent. We support the development of welding school centers of excellence and the industries that rely on those skills including energy, mining, agriculture, electric power, manufacturing, shipbuilding and others. African Skills and Development has built working relationships with global organizations and individuals to facilitate the transfer of technology and the skills to use it, while empowering young African men and women to prosper and raise healthy families.

We envision many opportunities to forge partnerships between financial institutions, interested investors, training centers and the projects that need these skills. Our goal is to identify and support projects that will be profitable for investors while bringing about historic change to Africa and its people.
